OUR EXPERIENCE

HIGHER EDUCATION

Stradley Ronon's high-level practice is adept at handling the issues that are specific to colleges and universities while remaining sensitive to the priorities of each institution. We have represented higher education institutions in real estate acquisitions, contract negotiations and financings, including tax-exempt bond transactions, provided Title IX advice, performed internal investigations, defended civil rights claims and claims of unlawful fraternity hazing, provided a broad range of intellectual property services and appeared before zoning and planning agencies and before city government agencies regarding taxation issues, licenses, zoning, and land-planning and tax-exempt issues at the local, state and federal levels.

We have served as outside counsel to Saint Joseph's University for more than 50 years and as general counsel to Manor College and Chestnut Hill College, and have provided legal counsel to Temple University, LaSalle College, Villanova University, University of the Arts, Eastern University, Lafayette College, Rowan University, Andrews University, Reconstructionist Rabbinical College and many others.

Our experience includes:

- Representing Temple University:
  - In a significant victory in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. The Court granted summary judgment to Temple on all the plaintiff's discrimination claims, entering judgment in Temple's favor and ending the case without the need for a trial.
  - In a significant win. The matter involved a Plaintiff who brought race claims under Section 1981 and Title VII for his discipline and termination against Temple and two individual defendants. The Stradley litigation team had five days of trial, and the jury deliberated for six hours before returning a complete defense verdict on all counts.

- Advising Saint Joseph's University:
  - In connection with the construction and equipping of a new residence facility for approximately 410 students.
  - On intellectual property law matters, including securing trademark protection for logos and brands.
  - On a $7 million suit arising from actuarial malpractice and the University's pension plan, which was settled for less than six figures.
- Assisting the University of Scranton in parsing and applying the religious employer exemption in faculty negotiations.
- Representing the Jewish Campus Board on behalf of Hillel House in connection with the permitting, development, financing and construction of new, state-of-the-art dining facilities on both the University of Pennsylvania's and Temple University's campuses.
- Representing Andrews University where an employee was terminated for repudiating the teachings of the church in a letter that referred to the church's beliefs as "heresy."
- Assisting the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College's counsel in changing the U.S. Department of Education's rules on student loan forgiveness to allow rabbinical students to participate by filing a petition for rulemaking with Education Secretary Betsy DeVos, seeking revocation of that restriction as not intended by the authorizing statute and not required by the First Amendment.

- Representing the Penn State University Interfraternity Council, a student-run organization, against allegations by a former student that it was negligent and responsible for hazing that he allegedly endured while pledging for a fraternity, and securing early dismissal of virtually all the claims asserted.
- Representing the University of the Arts in merging a well-known nonprofit organization into the University and separately serving as University counsel in connection with a nonprofit affiliation with and sale of real estate to the Kimmel Center for the Arts.
